

2017 Virtual Maker Meetup

Have you heard about the maker movement? Are you curious about what other K-12 librarians are doing in their makerspaces? Do you need ideas about how to incorporate STEAM activities into your library program? Do you love the idea of participating in professional development from the comfort of your own home? Do you have a great maker activity that you want to share with others?

Join us for the first virtual ISLMA professional development opportunity to hear about exciting makerspace projects your colleagues have been undertaking.

When: Saturday, March 11, 2017
Where: Online!
Time: Four 30 minute sessions from 8:00 a.m.-10:00 a.m.
Cost: FREE (2 PDH credits available)

Two ways to participate:

To register as a participant, click here.

Do you have a maker activity you think other K-12 educators would like to hear about? Click here to join us as a presenter.

Questions? Contact profdevelopment@islma.org